Stations with 'v' before, vary in frequency. In the case of Radio Nova, they operate mostly on 819khz., but occasionally move for short periods to the recognised channel of 828khz.

Since the raids of mid May, the government has said that it will not raid any more stations unless they cause interference to others. Hence a situation similar to that in Italy has developed, where the Fm band is full of, mostly weekend, stations. Some of the stations logged in Dublin are:- Radio Annabelle, Dance Music Radio, Ballymun C.R., South Dublin Radio, Radio Goffic, Northside C. Radio, Rainbow Radio and others unidentified.

Westward 314 is now only on FM due to transmitter failure on medium wave. Possibly 104.
